crop, as a success achieved, we have had three good wheat crops in the same time; and the inquiry suggests itself, is it a general rule that where in a given series of years corn fails, fall wheat is pretty sure to succeed? We know that on certain lands in France, near Toulouse, exceptional lands, in fact, wheat has succeeded many years after year, without rest and without manure, for a long series of years. I have been more than one witness to the successive corn and wheat crops which are now common on the celebrated Haw Patch lands, and the lower White River in Indiana, but it has scarcely been suspected that in the order of nature a reconcile law governs the relations of the two great cereals, and to the extent that in seasons in which the one fails, the other might be depended on to succeed, and to meet the want caused by the failure of the other. The question is an interesting one, and would be pursued farther, if this letter were not too long for the advertising season.—Country Gentleman.

The penetrating winds incident to this season of the year, are very detrimental for the lungs. The neglect of a hard cough generally leads to a weakness of the lungs, which, not infrequently results in Consumption. SCHECH'S PULMONIC SYRUP will at once relieve and loosen a tight cough and is such an agreeable remedy that children will take it without being coerced. A cold on the lungs, if consumption is already developed, may be easily mastered by the use of the Pulmonic Syrup, together with Schech's Mandrake Pills to clear the system of the accumulated mucus. In more serious cases, where the disease has become deeply seated, and the patient suffers from loss of appetite, weakness and emaciation SCHECH'S SEA WED TONIC should be used in connection with the above mentioned remedies, to stimulate the appetite and bring the digestive powers into healthy action, thereby restoring the strength of the patient and enabling him to resist the progress of the disease until the Pulmonic Syrup may perform its healing and cleansing work. The use of these standard remedies according to the directions which accompany them, cannot fail to produce most satisfactory results. A letter addressed to Dr. Schech, cor. Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, asking advice, will promptly receive the Doctor's personal attention, free of charge. Schech's Medicines are for sale by all Druggists.

Some three or four months ago I made inquiry of the Club for a remedy for my piles in a valuable breeding animal. Not receiving the desired information, I tried my own device. After washing the protruding part in cold water, I put it back and put four strong stitches thus partly closing the rectum, and keeping the protrusion in place. This, followed by a dose of a table spoonful of sulphur each day, has proved so far a complete cure.—R. H. Dutton.

Manufacture of Edam Cheese.

The process of manufacture of the round or bullet cheeses, in Holland, so widely known as Edam cheeses, is as follows: The rennet is put into the milk as soon as it is taken from the cows, when coagulated, the hand, or a wooden bowl, is passed gently two or three times through the curd, which is then allowed to stand a few minutes; then the bowl or finger is again passed through it, and it is permitted to stand some minutes longer. The whey is taken off with the bowl, while the curd is put into a wooden tub, and the paper and shape of the cheese to be made. This form is cut out of the solid wood by a turner, and has one hole in the bottom. If the cheese is of the small size, about four pounds, it remains in this form about four days. It is turned daily, the upper part being turned time, being kept sprinkled with about two ounces of purified salt. It is then removed into a second box of the same size, with four holes in the bottom, and put under a press of about fifty pounds weight, where it remains for several hours. It is then taken out, put on a dry, airy shelf, and the cheese is again turned, and daily turned for about four weeks, when Edam cheeses are generally fit for market.—American Dairyman.

Sprouted Potatoes.

Your correspondent inquires if potatoes, with the sprouts broken off, will do for food. They will, and the sprout will be renewed. But in producing sprouts, the potato is partly exhausted, and plants will not be so strong as if they had never sprouted at all; for the same reason that the plants from small potatoes are not so strong as those from large ones. If your correspondent will plant alternate rows with tubers that have had the sprouts broken off, and with seed that has been kept cool and not sprouted, he will find the latter to yield the most potatoes, if he will measure the product of each, if he guesses at the amount, he will not perceive much difference. The best way to manage sprouted potatoes is to preserve the sprouts on them. Carry the potatoes carefully into the field just as they are, without pulling the mass apart, and as carefully take out each potato without at all touching the delicate shoot, and plant it, either with or without cutting, and cover carefully; the crop will be both earlier and larger.—Country Gentleman.

BRIEFLETS.

—Quite a strong current in the river.
—To-morrow is the third Sunday in Lent.
—Picnics will soon be claiming attention by the way the mercury keeps rising in the world.
—T. J. Cairns is having a great opening. He has in fact torn away the whole front of his store, and is putting up a new one.
—Jo Cook has got his back up again, and refuses to go out with the gang to work. He is boarding on bread and water to-day.

—The croquet balls are being repainted, and the season with all its accompanying flirtations and mirth, making ill-judged opening.
—Rev. T. P. Sawin has been engaged to deliver his lecture on Count Mirabeau next Tuesday evening at the First Congregational church.

—Around the depots and freight houses they don't deem a fellow a regular railroad until he has armed himself with at least one telephone.
—Last Monday there were placed on record 8 conveyances of real estate, the considerations of which amounted to $22,925, the largest day's work in years.

—The postoffice is now to be opened every morning as soon as the mail is distributed, which is sometimes a little before 8 o'clock, when the mail is not heavy.
—Fred Putnam has resigned the position of overseer of the gang of prisoners at work on the streets, and A. K. Cutts has taken his place. Fred didn't like the job.

—At the postoffice during the past week 126 money orders were issued, amounting to $1497.83, and 92 paid amounting to $1704.02, making a total cash handled—$3,201.85.
—An extract from an army officer's letter at Portland, Maine, says: "I am glad to learn through the papers that Prof. Fethers has taken up his reading again, for he was considered one of the best ecotomists in the East."

—The river road on the West Side from the limits to Monterey is in a sad state and almost impassable, and yet there is plenty of rock material, for bettering it, lying along the side of the road. A good field for giving the gang some work.
—Some of the enterprising churchists should get up a telephonic concert, similar to those being given in other places, a wire being run to another house, and those enjoying the experiments being taxed a small sum for the good of the cause.

—The Musical Club will meet next Tuesday evening in Prof. Fillmore's rooms. Prof. Van Cleve will analyze and play the Sonatas Op. 119, and Op. 111, of Beethoven, and Mrs. H. A. Smith will sing "Adelaide," by the same composer.
—The Mutual Improvement Club will meet next Monday evening, the programme consisting of a report on Current Science, a study of Harriet Martineau's "Facts on the Floor" by Miss Carrie Ormsby, and a study of Hawthorne's "Marble Faun," by Miss Lizzie Allen.

—The Executive Board of the Rock County Agricultural Society met this afternoon to consider the advisability of holding a fair. The matter was referred to a committee consisting of R. T. Pember, W. T. Vankirk, and Henry D. McKinney. Adjournment was then taken for two weeks.
—Prof. W. C. Whitford, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, made a very pleasant call at the Gazette sanctum yesterday afternoon. He reports his work as moving along smoothly, and from what others say, it seems safe to declare that he is proving wonderfully successful.

—Justice Patten is to-day examining the case of Z. Custer charged by Z. Curtis with selling him a patent right of no value. The examination revealed no particularly new facts beyond those given in the Gazette the other day. It will probably be on the boards for two or three days yet.

—Dan Whalen, who had just served three months in jail for larceny, and who on being set free the other day got drunk and was sent back for thirty days more, made good his escape the other day from the gang at work on the streets. His skip was kept quiet by the authorities in the hope that they would recapture him.

—Mr. Richardson, who lives on South Main street, was going toward home last night when he stumbled over a little rise in the sidewalk and fell with some force upon his face. His gold-bowed spectacles were forced backward by the fall and the bow cut into his nose, causing quite a gash. Strange to say the glasses were not even cracked.

—There has been much complaint because the places for depositing letters in the postoffice are in such obscure positions that no one, unless familiar with them, can find without asking where to mail their letters. The cause of the complaint is now to be remedied. A new place is to be arranged near the stamp window, and graced by a conspicuous sign.

—Word from Beloit was received this afternoon stating that about twenty tramps were quartered just outside the city limits, and were sending delegates around among the houses begging food and nickles. It is expected that they will reach Janesville this evening, and those interested should act accordingly, as there may be a repetition of last Saturday's scene.

—Two cripples, each having lost a leg, and who had been turned loose by the authorities after being locked up, started to the depot, promising to leave town last night. They got drunk on the way, and were met by a lot of boys at the depot who tarred them until a lively row broke out. Marshal Keating was called upon the scene and succeeded in getting them shipped out of town.

—The Beloit Free Press says of one of Janesville's men: "Serg. Childers, who is connected with Burr Robbins' circus company, and who has for a year and a quarter been a vigorous temperance worker, entertained the Opera house audience a portion of the time last evening, creating a good deal of enthusiasm by his vivid relation of personal experience and earnest appeals to drinking men. A good many red ribbons were donated."

—Mrs. Ira Millmore sends to the Gazette some beautiful wild flowers plucked from the bluff of "Mountain Home," where they have been in bloom since March 20. She says she has on her table some flowers culled in California March 4, and sent here as a wonder. Considering the usually rigorous nature of this northern climate, the home production is the greater wonder. Some of the same class of flowers, a variety of the wild crocus, are said to have been found in bloom here as early as March 12, this year.

—Mrs. Abbie Sage Richardson will lecture at All Souls' church to-night, on the "Novelists of the Eighteenth Century." This is considered one of her best efforts, and those who have not already heard her should improve the opportunity afforded this evening. Those who have already heard her need no urging to attend again. She never attempts to handle a subject without being thoroughly conversant with it, and is in every way capable of affording a profitable and pleasant evening entertainment.

—Those who have announcements which they desire to make through the columns of the Gazette should send them to the office early in the day, or else send them the day before. Otherwise they may appear in the waste basket instead of in the paper. In the latter part of the day there are more important matters to attend to. A word to the wise is sufficient, but no number of words will prove sufficient to the foolish ones, who can be seen almost every afternoon trying to crowd a notice in just as the forms are being locked up. Sometimes there is a good excuse but generally it is carelessness only.

—Next Friday evening at the Opera house Mr. S. H. Rhys and Mr. J. C. Aiden Jr. will give a unique entertainment, embracing the most popular songs of "Auld Scotia." Each song is preceded by a short sketch of the author and the circumstances surrounding the production, the fashions of the time and other necessary explanations to make the song, which follows, truly appreciated. Another author and another song are then treated in a similar manner, and thus throughout the programme, an interesting lecture is woven in with characteristic songs. These gentlemen come very highly recommended and will doubtless give a choice musical entertainment.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The visiting Knights of Pythias who are to institute the new Oriental Lodge in this city arrived this afternoon and were met at the depot by the Reception Committee and the charter members. The procession formed with the g. committee leading, Bower City Band, with fourteen pieces following, then the charter members, and then the visitors in full uniform, numbering about fifty, and including all the officers of the Grand Lodge. The line of march as announced yesterday was followed out.

THE TRICKY TOPSY.

Lottie, as Topsy in Uncle Tom's Cabin, at the Opera House to-night. She is so well known, that no extended notice of her merits is needed. The play itself increases in interest as the years go by, separating the present from that past when scenes therein depicted were more common. Negro personations always prove attractive, and in Lottie find a most faithful representative. There should be a good attendance of those delighting in such amusements. The notices of the press in other cities where this company has shown, are very flattering, and the entertainment will doubtless be worthy of a liberal patronage. The support is said to be very good.

SAVE YOUR MONEY.

J. C. Plumb & Son, of Milton, seem to appreciate the situation, and have concluded to offer for the next sixty days their nursery stock at one-half the usual rates. Their stock embraces a great variety of trees, vines and plants, and is in perfect condition. Any one intending to invest in anything in that line should not miss this chance to get two dollars for one. An examination of the prices and the stock will satisfy the most doubting one that this firm means business, and is determined to sell at a sacrifice even. The nursery is one of the best in the State, and its owners are known as reliable, straightforward business men. Their advertisement can be found in another column.

ANOTHER ESCAPE.

This morning the prisoners were at work in the gravel pit, under the overseers Cutts and Glass, when three of the gang unceremoniously laid down their shovels and took to their heels, easily effecting their escape. The three consisted of Capt. Ryan, who headed the gang of tramps captured last Saturday, Curley, one of his confederates, and Brady, one of Beloit's young men, seen up for drunkenness. When last seen the three were enthusiastically pursuing their journey toward the North. The telegraph wires have been used to head them off, but they will not probably be brought back. Escapes of prisoners are getting a little too frequent, in Janesville.

CHURCH SOCIALISTS.

The Court Street Methodists had a very pleasant social gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Conant, corner of High and Ravine streets last evening. Music and games, and a brief programme together with the usual tea-tete made the evening pass pleasantly. Miss Blinn sang very acceptably a Scotch ballad. Miss Eva Farlin, one of Delavan's teachers, who is visiting friends in the city, gave a recitation. Mr. H. S. Hogboom read a selection, and an artist took the photographs of those present. Considering the fact that there was no sunlight for the camera, and that the negatives were previously prepared from cuts from comic newspapers, the artist proved quite successful and caused much merriment.

THE BLOODY SHIRT.

Last night a man was seen by Constable Parker wandering about the streets with a bundle under his arm, and slightly under the influence of liquor. He asked Parker where he could get a chance to stay over night, and as he had no money he was escorted to the jail where he is now being kept. An examination of his bundle showed it to contain two or three dirty shirts, all of them much too large for him, and a ladies' undergarment for which he could possibly have no legitimate use. One of the shirts was stained with blood, and the neck, and along one sleeve and there was also a large spot on the back, but there were no wounds or scratches on the person of the prisoner to account for it. It is supposed that the bundle was stolen, or else that he had been engaged in some bloody act which he did not care to tell about. On finding himself under arrest he suddenly forgot his knowledge of English and refused to talk except a little in Swede, he evidently being of that nationality. Before being arrested he told the officer he was looking for work.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 35 degrees above, and at 2 p. m. at 60 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 17 and 23 degrees above. The indications to-day are, for the upper lake region, clear or partly cloudy weather, warm, southerly, veering to colder north west winds and falling, followed by rising barometer.

LAWRENCE'S STORY.

Walter Lawrence, the young man who is charged with being paid by a bank clerk's mistake in Clinton $750 instead of $75, wants to explain some of the case through the Gazette. He says that he did not present a check at the bank but a regular grain-dealer's ticket, stating the number of bushels and the price per bushel which was to be paid. This, he says, was handed to the clerk who figured the amount up as it really was, $75.00, but in pointing out made it $750.00. This is the way, as Lawrence understands it, that the clerk claims he happened to make the mistake. Lawrence denies that he received more than $75.00, and also denies Clegborn's statement that he saw the boy hand Lawrence one $500 package and a lot of loose bills. Lawrence also says that instead of shipping as was reported, he went to Clinton as soon as he heard the charge against him, that he sought out Clegborn himself, went to his room, and that while there Clegborn sent out for an officer and had him arrested. He got his bail fixed just in time to catch the train for Janesville and hurried here to get counsel, which gave rise probably to the story that he had run away. The case will prove an interesting one on the trial, as none accuse Lawrence of using any false pretenses or violent means, even if he was overpaid and secured $675 too much. Some good lawyers deny that the prosecution can make any other than a civil case of it.

READINGS AND MUSIC.

A respectable number of persons gathered at All Souls church last evening to partake of the literary and musical pabulum which was there offered. The opening exercise was the rendition by Mr. Fethers, in a most excellent manner, of the famous scene from Hiawatha. Mr. John P. Williams followed with the song—"Down Among the Dead Men," which was artistically executed, as would be expected by those who listened to it for the forty-sixth or seventh time. By request Mr. Fethers read Saxe's famous and never-wearisome poem—"Pyramus and Thisbe," which was recently recited by Miss Runals in this city. Competent judges of this class of poetry would doubtless prefer the interpretation given to this production of Mr. Saxe by Mr. Fethers rather than Miss Runals. This superior rendition on the part of the former may probably be attributed to a generous participation in the youthful experiences which are so graphically portrayed in the poem, while the conception by Miss Runals of its salient points is only the result of abstract study.

The death of Paul Dombey was the next presented by the reader; and with its tender passages he most effectively touched the feelings of his hearers, though it must be confessed that his pathetic selections do not meet with the universal acceptance accorded to his humorous and more vivid scenes. This was followed by the "Laird and Watch," a duet which was sung by Mr. Williams and Mr. D. D. Bennett, and which has been heard by Janesville audiences several times annually from the earliest recollections of the oldest inhabitants. The ponderous arguments of the members of the Colored Debating Society on the question as to "which is the mightier, the pen or the sword," were read by Prof. Fethers, and produced generous applause.

The young people then went to the regions below and engaged in dancing until midnight.

DECLINES.

To the voters of the First ward. I have received the Democratic nomination for Supervisor. I have no ambition in this or any other official direction. I am content in being a sovereign but would never be as servant with so many masters. I have business enough of my own, so I beg leave to be relieved from other people's. I respect.

THOMAS T. CROFT.

SUNDAY LECTURES.

To the Editor:

In your last night's issue you seem religiously disturbed over the proposed Sunday readings by Mrs. Richardson, "as not in the best of taste," and by inference associate the lady's readings with theaters, variety-shows, &c. Editors who read the newspapers and are acquainted with the movements of the age should be able to discriminate between the shows designed to demoralize and debilitate, provided in the interests of dissipation, and the Sunday lecture system which is now, to the candid and thoughtful philanthropist, no longer a questioned means of moral improvement in our cities. Any one at all conversant with the papers must know that the Sunday courses in Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, Milwaukee and elsewhere have within the last three years reached thousands of workmen and women, who during the week could not command an hour of sunlight as their own. It has enabled multitudes of poor people of feel the thrill of inspiration that comes from hearing the noblest and truest of the land, Wendell Phillips, James T. Fields, Mary A. Livermore, Prof. Swing, Robert Collyer and others have been heard at the most favorable hour in all the week when the workingman's family might go together and for a sum less than would be expected from them for a seat in a fashionable church, permanently enrich their souls with the sunshine of their faces and the memory of their words. The average attendance in the course at Chicago for 1876 which lasted for seven months, was 1,377. At St. Louis the average was nine hundred and sixty, an audience, it is said, "made up of men with their families, youths and boys who could hardly have afforded more than ten cents."

Of course this provoked a certain clamor against "Sabbath desecration" like unto that which appeared in your columns last night; a blat of an innovation disturbs our Christian complacency more than the sad fact that the dozen pulpits of Janesville go on from Sunday to Sunday drenching to meagerly filled houses, while hundreds upon hundreds of men and boys as well as women, never attend church. We know that our young men hang listlessly around our street corners, or haunt worse places, and still it is Sunday desecration to attempt to reach them with the sermons of Longfellow and Whitier, more searching than that of the average Janesville pulpit, and by a voice as tender, as loving and as loyal. It is sacrilege to take the honest dime at the door, but it is sacred service to pass the hat and enforce its claims by "pulpit begging." That it is possible to urge this Sabbatarian severity to an extent that it becomes harmful to morality is a fact patent to every student of history. Says the good and orthodox Dr. Norman McLeod: "In proportion to the strict enforcement of Sabbatarianism there would be multiplied those practical inconsistencies, dishonesty, pharisaic soporifics which prove it in all ages detrimental to morality and religion."

John Knox visited Calvin one Sunday afternoon and found him playing at a game of bowls, and still Calvin was tolerably orthodox. Says Luther: "If anywhere the day is made holy for the mere day's sake; if anywhere any one sets up its observance on a Jewish foundation then I order you to work on it, to ride on it, to feast on it; to do anything to remove this encroachment on Christian liberty." Says St. Jerome "the day is not a day of fasting but the day is a day of joy; the church has always considered it a day of joy and none but heretics have thought otherwise." Says Paul "Ye observe days and months and years. I am afraid of you lest I have bestowed labor on you in vain." And again—"Let no man therefore judge you any more in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holy day or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath days." 'Tis true it was said of Jesus, "This man cannot be of God because he keepeth not the Sabbath day," and according to the standing set up by the Gazette last night he deserved the charge for he accepted invitations to feast on that day, he justified himself and his disciples in walking and laboring on that day. "The Sabbath was made for man not man for the Sabbath," he said.

In conclusion, your threat that "this step may not strengthen the lady's popularity" may be all too true, fortunately the Kingdom of Truth is not established by a majority vote and prophets ere this have been stoned. Yours for Truth and Right living, JENK L. JONES.

Great Popularity.

Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts, Nectarine, Rose, Lemon, etc., have been before the public many years, and have gained for themselves, on their own merits, an extensive sale. Their great popularity is mainly due to the using of the purest and best materials, with special reference to their healthfulness.

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, etc., who have no personal knowledge of Bosche's German Syrup. To all such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all druggists in America. dec3deod-15scowm

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill
Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes dandruff, and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair insured. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist, A. J. Roberts, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. jan3deodawecowmllmar25

Chicago Market.

—CHICAGO, March 22
During the afternoon the markets were well attended by operators, and a fair amount of business was accomplished.

Wheat—The market on spring wheat—This market improved somewhat in its tone to-day. No change of special mention occurred in the ruling prices, but the late break brought out more buyers than was anticipated, and the movement rather promptly a sharp reaction. The continued poor traveling in the country, coupled with the light receipts, and the fair buyout of eastern and foreign shipments, continue to prevent the bears from becoming complete masters of the situation.

The latest report on No 2 spring wheat was fairly active, the May option ruling weak; seller April sold at 1 1/4 1/10 1/10; and closed with buyers at 1 1/4 1/10; seller May sold at 1 1/2 1/10 1/10; and closed with buyers at 1 1/2 1/10.
